EXPLANATIONS

PROVI TRAINING
ProVI provides comprehensive basic and advanced training on the key contents of ProVI products. The training sessions are carried out by ProVI instructors. Participants must have a basic knowledge of AutoCAD or BricsCAD.
Each training session must have a minimum number of four participants.
We offer the following training formats:
// Open training (online and attended)
// In-house online training
// In-house one-on-one training (customer provides the room, computer, projector / large screen monitor)
BASIC TRAINING IN ROUTE DESIGN	// 2 days Content: Fundamentals of ProVI; how to design roads and railroads in a guideline-compliant manner; how to generate all the most important site, elevation and cross-section representations; how to use calculation modules and interfaces.
BASIC TRAINING FOR DRAFTSMEN	// 1 day Content: How to understand the available model data structure; how to methodically generate the required drawings and plan sets; how to use the supporting design models.
ADVANCED TRAINING IN DRAINAGE	// 1 day // Requirements: basic knowledge of ProVI route design Content: How to develop free and route-bound drainage networks in 3D; how to dimension using a hydraulic calculation; how to generate all the most important site, elevation and cross-section representations; how to perform volume calculations.
ADVANCED TRAINING IN LAND ACQUISITION	// 1 day // Requirements: basic knowledge of ProVI route design Content: How to compile cadaster inventories from individual data; how to import complete cadaster data; how to intersect acquisition areas from inventory and planning data; how to check and correct the results; and how to output the results as guideline-compliant lists and drawings.
